Over the next two years, the Tax & Finance Committee will focus on promoting a more transparent, predictable and efficient tax and financial regulatory environment in Serbia through constructive dialogue with the relevant authorities and active engagement of the business community.

A key priority will be to improve the transparency and timing of consultations on amendments to tax legislation, enabling meaningful business input at an earlier stage. The Committee will also advocate for greater involvement of the business community in the implementation of technical solutions affecting tax compliance, with the aim of making tax procedures more efficient, practical and predictable.

The Committee will continuously identify and address specific challenges in tax regulations and its implementation, with particular attention to VAT, Corporate Income Tax, Personal Income Tax and Property Tax, as well as other public revenues affecting businesses.

An important area of work will be the modernization of the Foreign Exchange Operations regulatory framework, with a focus on reducing unnecessary administrative burdens, facilitating transactions and supporting the competitiveness and regional expansion of Serbian companies.

The Committee will follow the implementation of the SEPA system and advocate for its effective application.

Through these efforts, the Committee will contribute to a more predictable, competitive and business-friendly tax and financial environment in Serbia.
